

Writing curriculum

Writing is a key skill for all aspects of life. Bradford Primary School puts a large emphasis on writing, for purpose and pleasure. We believe that children who enjoy writing and take pride in their work progress quickly.

The ability to write allows us to convey our own thoughts, feelings, emotions, faith and opinions. Through the daily use of note making, email and letter writing through to poetry and creative writing. Writing is more than just an academic skill, it is an expressive outlet and an opportunity to flourish as an individual.

Children are taught to write across the curriculum. In English lessons, writing teaching will be based around 'Texts that teach' and the 'Talk for writing' principles. The use of high-quality texts as a basis for writing allows children to experience how good authors manipulate their reader through the use of grammar and vocabulary. This covers fiction and non-fiction and a range of genres.

Early phonics leads into 'No nonsense' spelling pathways which the children follow throughout their school career.

Handwriting is discretely taught until children have clear and legible joined writing.

Writing is closely monitored by learning walks and book looks at regular intervals. Moderation happens within school, across the Dartmoor MAT. Spelling and EGaPS tests 3 times a year allow us to gauge progress and identify any weaknesses in children's knowledge and skills.

Programme of study

We use the National Curriculum 2014 for our programme of study in writing.
